

TESCO Announces New CT Ratio/Burden Tester

By Brian Ravenna
November 16, 2015

Bristol, PA – TESCO is pleased to introduce the CT Ratio/Burden Tester (Catalog No. 1047). TESCO's new CT Ratio/Burden Tester is a lightweight, portable and highly accurate in-service test set to assist in finding lost revenue by testing the accuracy of your meter circuits. The CT Ratio/Burden Tester can help determine if there are installations errors, loose connections, incorrect ratios, resistance buildup, open CT's, or manufacturers defects. The CT Ratio/Burden Tester measures and displays the primary and secondary current of the CT under test, and the ratio of the currents. All test data is stored in the internal memory and easily uploaded to a PC or bluetooth device.
